NELSON IS CHARY

Does Not Make Mistake Of-Underrating Attell's Prowess.

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Com-monly a fighter in training belittles the bility of the man he is to meet. That is part of the bitterness that goes with the game. In the case of Attell and Nelson it appears to be differentleast, so far as Nelson is concerned. Nelson thinks Attell is the greatest pugilist of his heft in the world. But he believes that Abe made a bad match when he signed up with Battling Nel-whether I think I can outbox Attell. Frankly I don't know," said Nelson. "Attell is the best fighter of his inches in the whole wide world. They talk about Joe Gans' cleverness, but Attell would make him look foolish. I believe if Gans made the weight I am making Attell would lick him sure.

Can Beat Moran.

'I believe Attell can beat Owen Moran. I am telling you this to show you that I do not underrate Attell, But st as sure as you're born Attell put his foot in it when he signed with ma. He has always had a hankering to butt in among the lightweights, and I'll make him regret it as long as he lives. He will find that a champion featherweight Attell personally, and that the coming contest is purely a matter of business. Attell put in a busy day at Millett's. He insists that he means what he says in regard to making a stand-up fight, of it with Nelson, and for that matter his practice work shows that he expects to engage in close work at some stages of the contest.
